

Pumas of Patagonia

Ghosts of the Andes

November 27 to December 5, 2027

Puma

SAFARI OVERVIEW

Experience a one-of-a-kind puma tracking adventure in Torres del Paine, Chile, widely regarded as one of the best places in the world to observe these elusive big cats in the wild. This Patagonia wildlife journey gives you exclusive access to Estancia Laguna Amarga, a private reserve with one of the highest densities of wild pumas, creating excellent opportunities for sightings. Guided by knowledgeable experts, you'll set out on dawn and dusk excursions to watch pumas hunt guanacos, patrol their territories, and interact with their cubs, while exploring the rugged Patagonian landscape in 4x4 vehicles and on guided hikes to maximize your chances of encountering wildlife. In addition to pumas, you'll spot Andean Condors, guanacos, Patagonian foxes, and hog-nosed skunks as you immerse yourself in this stunning region, with the journey concluding at Olga Teresa Ranch, home to the largest gathering of Andean Condors, offering extraordinary opportunities for photography and wildlife observation.

WHY CHOOSE THIS TRIP?

- Exclusive Puma Tracking at Laguna Amarga Ranch: Spend three days with private access to prime puma territory, guided by expert trackers.
- Exceptional Big Cat Photography: Photograph pumas hunting, stalking, and interacting with their cubs in the beautiful golden light of Patagonia.
- 4x4 and Hiking Adventures: Explore the wilderness in off-road vehicles and enjoy moderate hikes to maximize your wildlife viewing opportunities.

- Andean Condor Viewing at Olga Teresa Ranch: See the largest gathering of Andean condors as they soar gracefully above Patagonia’s dramatic cliffs.
- Immersive Patagonia Exploration: Discover the glacial valleys, southern beech forests, and windswept steppes of Torres del Paine.

LEADERS

Cheesemans' Ecology Safaris carefully selects leaders who are experts in their field to ensure that your experience is the best it can be. Two leaders, Scott and a local leader, will provide a range of expertise for your trip.

Scott Davis

Scott is a professional photographer specializing in wildlife, nature, and travel. Originally trained as a wildlife and marine biologist, his research and photo assignments took him to the far corners of the globe. National Geographic, BBC, Animal Planet, and renowned magazines have used his photography. His patience for teaching and love of capturing the essence of his subjects make him one of our most popular tour leaders.

DETAILED ITINERARY

Nov 27 ~ Travel to Punta Arenas, Chile.

Nov 28 ~ Arrive in Punta Arenas.

If arriving from our South Georgia and Antarctic Peninsula trip, you will be flying from Antarctica into Punta Arenas this day.

Nov 29 ~ Transfer to Cerro Castillo and begin exploring Torres del Paine along the way.

During your journey to the park, you will look for guanaco, southern grey fox, and Patagonian skunk while enjoying your first views of southern beech (Nothofagus) forest. While visiting the valleys, you will be given a geological interpretation of the origins of the dramatic backdrop of Torres del Paine, one of the finest natural spectacles in Patagonia.

Nov 30–Dec 2 ~ Spend 3 days puma trekking at Laguna Amarga Ranch.

You will explore the puma hunting grounds located on the eastern flank of the park and throughout the property of Estancia Laguna Amarga, where exclusive access and a strong rapport with the owners provide a unique advantage. This area, encompassing the northern coast of Sarmiento Lake, Laguna Amarga, and Laguna Azul, is renowned for its dense puma population, one of the largest concentrations in the wild.

Guanaco

With the aid of a rugged 4x4 vehicle, you will navigate the ranch, although the adventure also includes easy to moderate walks, demanding a basic level of fitness to keep pace. The terrain, while generally manageable, may present altitude variations between 50-250m (160-1,000ft), but the group will proceed at a leisurely and steady rate. The highest elevation reached during this journey will be 300m (1,000ft) above sea level.

Pumas are most active at night, early in the mornings, and late in the evenings. Thus, the itinerary is designed around these peak times, allowing observation of these magnificent creatures as they patrol their territory, hunt guanacos and other prey, interact with their offspring, or travel between hunting grounds and dens. Each day will feature two sessions: a morning session and an evening session, each approximately 4 hours long. Midday puma watching will be avoided to prevent disturbing the animals during their critical resting and recuperating periods after a night of hunting.

Pumas

Dec 3 ~ Spend the morning in Torres del Paine and visit Andean Condors at the Olga Teresa Ranch.

After a final morning enjoying Torres del Paine, you'll spend the afternoon at Olga Teresa Ranch which boasts the world's largest concentration of Andean Condor roosts. The steep cliffs host as many as 100 birds with excellent access for viewing and photography, and you'll have a chance to climb to the top of Cerro Palomares, a 700-foot-high hill to view the condors. Olga Teresa Ranch is a protected space for these beautiful birds, as well as an important research site.

Dec 4 ~ Depart for home.

After breakfast, transfer to the airport for your flights home.

Dec 5 ~ Arrive home.

Conservation

Our company ethos has always regarded conservation as inseparable from responsible tourism. We struggle with the dilemma that traveling worldwide expends climate-changing carbon. However, we wholeheartedly believe that traveling with us will cultivate your passion for conserving our beautiful world while stimulating each destination's local economy. We encourage you to explore the various ways in which Cheesemans' operates within this context:

- Cheesemans' Trips are Carbon Neutral.
- Offsetting your Travel to/from our Trip: We ask you to pledge to offset the carbon emissions for your travel to and from our trips. You can purchase offsets with most airlines (Delta includes them automatically), use our handy carbon calculator and donate to Sustainable Travel International, or contribute to your favorite offsetting organization.
