LEADER

Cheesemans' Ecology Safaris carefully selects leaders who are experts in their field to ensure that your experience is the best it can be. One leader with an assistant guide/driver will provide a range of expertise for your trip.

Rafael Andrade

Rafael studied Environmental Management, specializing in Tourism, the Environment, and Social Responsibility. He began his work as a naturalist guide in 2013 throughout the Amazon and Pantanal, later becoming the head of guides for the Pantanal's Caiman Lodge. He enjoys sharing his knowledge and passion for nature and wildlife with travelers while also integrating the local communities and the importance of respecting the environment.

DETAILED ITINERARY

Sep 25 ~ Travel to São Paulo, Brazil

Arrive in São Paulo, Brazil, for an overnight stay and a welcome dinner before your group flight to Cuiabá the following morning.

Sep 26 ~ Fly to Cuiabá then drive south to Araras

Transfer to the São Paulo Airport for the group flight to Cuiabá, the vibrant gateway to northern Mato Grosso. Upon arrival, embark on a scenic drive through 56 miles of the breathtaking Cerrado region, known as the Brazilian savanna, en route to the charming town of Poconé. Continue your adventure by traveling 26 miles south to the iconic Transpantaneira Highway – a legendary gravel road stretching 93 miles through the heart of the Pantanal, the world's largest tropical wetland. Head south along the Transpantaneira to reach your destination of Araras.

Sep 27 ~ Explore Araras

Immerse yourself in the natural beauty of Araras Eco Lodge, spanning an impressive 7,413 hectares of diverse habitats, including wetland, forest, and savannah. Explore the lodge grounds and elevated boardwalks to spot incredible birdlife, such as Cinereous-breasted Spinetails and Mato Grosso Antbirds, thriving in the lush woodlands. Venture east of the Transpantaneira Highway into the expansive dry grasslands, where you'll have exceptional opportunities to observe both lesser and giant anteaters in their natural environment. After a delicious dinner, embark on an exhilarating night drive – the optimal time to encounter the elusive tamandua (lesser anteater) and, with some luck, a South American tapir.

Sep 28 ~ Morning safari then drive to Porto Jofre

Kickstart your day with an exhilarating early morning safari at Araras Eco Lodge before journeying south along the Transpantaneira Highway to the Cuiabá River in Porto Jofre. Along this legendary route, water accumulates beside the highway, attracting an impressive array of wildlife. Take advantage of scenic stops to stretch your legs, capture breathtaking photographs, and immerse yourself in the beauty of the Pantanal.

Spot the majestic Jabiru Stork, a towering five-foot-tall emblem of the Pantanal, and the stunning Hyacinth Macaw, the world's largest parrot, often seen around lodges as they feast on palm seeds. As you traverse the lush landscapes, keep an eye out for two species of brocket deer, along with pampas and marsh deer, roaming the tall grasslands.

Sep 29–Oct 2 ~ Search the Rio Cuiabá surroundings by boat

The Rio Cuiabá offers some of the best opportunities to spot jaguars in the wild. Protected in this region, these magnificent jaguars have grown accustomed to the presence of boats filled with eager wildlife photographers. You'll travel in nimble boats, perfectly suited to navigate the river's winding tributaries, where jaguars may be resting along the banks or stealthily hunting.

Each day, enjoy private boat excursions in the cooler hours of the morning and late afternoon when wildlife is most active. Beyond the stunning birdlife, keep watch for fascinating mammals like black-striped tufted capuchins, crab-eating foxes, South American tapirs, and the elusive ocelot. The Pantanal's waterways are also home to an incredible array of reptiles, from hundreds of Yacaré caimans to green iguanas, and if luck is on your side, the rarely seen yellow anaconda.

Oct 3 ~ Fly from Porto Jofre to Pousada Aguapé

Take a final morning boat excursion before your charter flight to Pousada Aguapé, a remote eco-ranch rich in biodiversity.

Oct 4 ~ Search for wildlife at Pousada Aguapé

Located near Pousada Aguapé, the Peccary Project (Projeto Queixada) is a groundbreaking conservation initiative dedicated to protecting the rich biodiversity of the Pantanal. Through strong partnerships with the local rural community, this project promotes sustainable practices that have significantly contributed to the area's remarkable wildlife diversity. During your visit, you'll have the unique opportunity to meet passionate local researchers who will guide you through their ongoing conservation efforts. Learn firsthand about their vital work to protect the critically endangered, white-lipped peccary and discover how sustainable ranching practices help maintain the balance of this unique ecosystem.

Oct 5 ~ Morning search for wildlife, then drive to Fazenda San Francisco

Continue your wildlife search before heading to Fazenda San Francisco, a renowned conservation-focused ranch and eco-lodge in the Southern Pantanal.

Oct 6 ~ Explore the Pantanal around Fazenda San Francisco

At Fazenda San Francisco, your chances of spotting iconic wildlife like giant anteaters and ocelots are unparalleled, with thrilling game drives and night spotting excursions offering prime opportunities. With a bit of luck, you may even encounter jaguar, maned wolf, or South American tapir. This remarkable destination spans extensive native forest, wetlands, and grasslands, while also functioning as a working ranch with cattle pastures and expansive rice fields. The dedicated owner and staff are committed to preserving wildlife, with a special focus on protecting rare mammals. Right around the lodge, you'll find an abundance of Blue-and-yellow Macaws, parrots, parakeets, toucans, and toucanets, all well-habituated and perfect for up-close encounters. Enjoy evening and dawn game drives for the most exciting wildlife action, while taking relaxing breaks on the lodge grounds during the warmer parts of the day.

Oct 7 ~ Fazenda San Francisco game drive, then travel to Caiman Lodge

Enjoy an early morning game drive before traveling to the famous Caiman Lodge.

Oct 8–9 ~ Explore wildlife around Caiman Lodge

Caiman Lodge, the best of the best of nature lodges in South America, has charming accommodations, a very experienced friendly staff, delicious food, and very high-quality service. Most importantly, Caiman Lodge is a wildlife lover's paradise, making it our absolute favorite spot in the entire region. You have good chances for locating jaguars, but the overall wildlife experience while immersed in this beautiful native habitat is the highlight here at Caiman, named for the plethora of Yacaré caimans whose glowing eyes dot the landscape after dark. Caiman Lodge offers exceptional opportunities to encounter rare and fascinating wildlife, including mother giant anteaters carrying their young, graceful gray brocket deer, pampas deer, two species of armadillos, the elusive tapeti (Brazilian rabbit), and curious crab-eating raccoons. You'll also experience night drives to spot nocturnal wildlife in action. Capturing elusive wildlife on camera can be challenging, but with ample time spent in nature and the expert guidance of the lodge staff, you'll maximize your chances of taking home spectacular images from your unforgettable journey.

Oct 10 ~ Morning at Caiman Lodge, then depart to Campo Grande

Spend your final morning at Caiman Lodge, capturing stunning images of resident macaws and other wildlife before departing for Campo Grande.

Oct 11 ~ Travel homeward

Fly from Campo Grande to São Paulo, where you'll connect with your international flight home.

Oct 12 ~ Arrive Home

Arrive home with unforgettable memories and spectacular wildlife photographs from the ultimate Pantanal safari adventure.

OTHER DETAILS

Climate

The Pantanal can be very hot, from 90 to 100+°F (32 to 38+°C), especially during midday and afternoons. The occasional cold snap may blow through, dropping the temperature to the 60s°F (~15 to 20°C), so layer clothes to manage these changing conditions!

Fitness Level

Most wildlife viewing is done from small boats and vehicles. Walks to search for wildlife are generally less than an hour over relatively flat trails or along gravel roads. Please contact us if you have any health concerns that may make this trip challenging.

Accommodations

All lodges have private baths and air conditioning.

Transportation

You will travel by air-conditioned private bus, boat, and commercial air. Some remote roads in the Pantanal are unpaved, dusty, and bumpy. Some of the drives between regions are long, between one and five hours, but most of these are on paved, modern roads. The boats are comfortable (the seats have backrests) and are easy to get in and out of. Although the boats have limited space, you have room for your daypack and camera gear near your feet and on your lap.

Motion Sickness

Don't let a fear of motion sickness keep you away! Even those who have experienced motion sickness reported that the incredible wildlife and overall experience were well worth the temporary discomfort. If you are susceptible to motion sickness from bumpy roads, small boat rides, or are concerned that you might be, please come prepared! The key to avoiding motion sickness is to act before you experience nausea. Do your own research and consult your doctor before taking any medications. A good night of sleep, eating well, limiting alcohol, and using your favorite seasickness remedy is sufficient for most travelers. Find more information on our Coping with Seasickness webpage (this information is applicable to any form of motion sickness) and contact us if you have any questions.

Conservation

Our company ethos has always regarded conservation as inseparable from responsible tourism. We struggle with the dilemma that traveling worldwide expends climate-changing carbon. However, we wholeheartedly believe that traveling with us will cultivate your passion for conserving our beautiful world while stimulating each destination's local economy. We encourage you to explore the various ways in which Cheesemans' operates within this context:

- Ecotourism and Conservation for Brazil.
- Cheesemans' Trips are Carbon Neutral.
- Offsetting your Travel to/from our Trip: We ask you to pledge to offset the carbon emissions for your travel to and from our trips. You can purchase offsets with most airlines (Delta includes them automatically), use our handy carbon calculator and donate to Sustainable Travel International, or contribute to your favorite offsetting organization.

FAQS

Should I visit the Pantanal or the Amazon to see wildlife?

While the Amazon is much more famous, the Pantanal is the best place to see Brazil's wildlife, as it has much greater biodiversity and a higher density of that biodiversity. The Pantanal is the world's largest wetland and therefore attracts many large mammals (the Big Five), smaller mammals such as monkeys and capybaras, and many beautiful birds.

When is the best time to go to the Pantanal?

Our Pantanal trips take place in the months of July through October during the dry season, when wildlife tends to concentrate around the ponds left after the wet season's floods. Fields are now dry, enabling us to hike and drive safari-style through them to look for wildlife. It is also warmer during these months, and the coolness of the river entices jaguars to the riverbanks to cool off. July through October are also good months to see plentiful birds.

Am I guaranteed to see the Pantanal's Big Five – jaguar, giant anteater, giant otter, ocelot, and South American tapir?

The goal is to see the Big Five, but as wildlife is wild and unpredictable, we cannot guarantee certain sightings! However, to best meet that goal, you spend the maximum time in nature to greatly increase your chance of seeing the Big Five and lots more.

Why do you spend so much time on rivers in the Pantanal?

During days near the Cuiabá and other rivers, spend a lot of time in boats, as it is the best way to see jaguars and other wildlife. Wildlife is accustomed to tourist boats and feels safe around them, generally allowing you to approach to watch and photograph them.
